

Prof. Shilpa H. Bhingardive is Assistant Professor in Sinhgad Institute of Management and Computer Application. She has knowledge expertise in the field of Labour Welfare, Industrial Relation, Human Resource Management, Legal Aspects of Business and Emotional Intelligence and Managerial Effectiveness. She is a Post Graduate in Management from Savitribai Phule Pune University; She has qualified NET and is pursuing her Ph D from Savitribai Phule Pune University. Her experience covers almost 8 years of teaching. She has attended and organized many Seminars/Programmes related to Management at National Level, and also embraces Professional Membership of NIPM.

Since the management course trains students in the practice and theory of management she uses practical examples and exercises along with theoretical training in the classroom. Activities such as presentation, case study analysis, quizzes and management games are used as tools during the sessions. She believes that the market in today's world is very volatile and to sustain and succeed in such a market students have to think beyond the lines and she along with her colleagues work to prepare the students for this challenge. She wants to demonstrate to students a framework for understanding the objectives and responses of these in various sectors and the consequences of their decisions.

She is actively involved with the activities in the institute such as Class coordination, Cultural and management event coordination for Sinhgad Karandak –Neon and CSR activity coordination.

She has multiple research articles primarily in the areas of Human Resource Management in National and International Journal and has also written a book on 'Health and Safety'.
