In the remarkable turn of events I was made an offer to rejoin persistent systems to help accelerate development of an app "Smart Client" for one of the Persistent's clients.
- It was a phonegap app.
- My job was to work on developing iPad equivalent of existing iPhone Smart Client.

While I was at it, I realized teaching is something I could do great.
I conducted JavaScript training for freshers and mentored them for the duration of my employment in Persistent.

Then I resigned to become a global personality and moved to California.

Co Founder & Chief Marketing Officer

The Organic Carbon
November 2015 – Present (11 months) | Pune Area, India

'The Organic Carbon' derives its name from the organic carbon found in soil. It is the basis of sustainable agriculture. Like the hemoglobin of soil. In addition to mitigating climate change, this approach is more productive, profitable and sustainable.

We are farmers. We know how it is, to be on an Indian farm- the challenges, weather, soil and all the related practices.

We envision regaining the glory of agriculture as a profession by promoting sustainable regenerative organic farming practices using rich wisdom in traditional farming with a balanced blend of modern digital technologies.

It is a holistic systems approach that encourages continual on-farm innovation for environmental, social, economic and spiritual wellbeing. By promoting an Eco-Eco friendly (Ecological & Economical), replicable agri-business organic farming model, we wish to add to greater food security as well as nutritional security measures while providing a viable and dignified source of livelihood to our farmers.

We aim to make every farmer as today's Global-farmer citizen with exposure to modern farming technology. Our digital approach involves implementing a balanced and financially viable technology like automation of farm processes, Use of drones for collecting crop data for advance analysis, Controlled farming techniques like hydroponic, poly-house, shade net, Sophisticated software for managing all the farm related activities like data management, tracking, recording, reporting, data entry, Monitoring system- CCTV cameras, different sensors and Digital documentation.

We provide a structured training of technology modules to our farmers, about our innovative regenerative organic methods of cultivation along with the opportunity to have hands on experience on our farms.

Our activities do not end just at the advice throughout the entire life cycle of the harvest but also establish the best possible forward market linkage for the farmers through collective marketing.
