Title: "Summer Internship Programme Preparation"

Guest Speaker: Dr. Jayesh Minase

Brief Report: The preparation process for SIP involved setting personal goals, conducting company research, enhancing skills, refining application materials, engaging in networking, preparing for interviews, and continuous professional development.

Personal Goals and Objectives:

Clear goals were established for the internship, focusing on skill development, industry exposure, and professional growth. These goals align with my broader career aspirations and contribute to a purposeful internship experience.

Company Research:

Thorough research has to be conducted of the host company, covering its background, mission, values, and recent achievements. This knowledge forms the foundation for effective integration into the company's culture and aligning contributions with organizational goals.

Skill Enhancement:

Efforts were directed towards enhancing technical and soft skills relevant to the internship role. Participation in online courses, workshops, and practical projects aimed to acquire and strengthen competencies crucial for success.

Resume and Cover Letter Preparation:

The resume underwent careful review and updates, emphasizing experiences and skills required to the internship. A tailored cover letter has to be crafted to showcase alignment with the company's values and a clear understanding of the role.

Interview Preparation:

A systematic approach to interview preparation included mock interviews, self-reflection, and feedback sessions. This preparation aimed to build confidence and readiness for the interview process.

Conclusion:

The comprehensive preparation undertaken positions us for a successful and impactful Summer Internship Program. We were enthusiastic about contributing to the team, learning from the experience, and leveraging this opportunity for professional and personal development.

News paper Peadng Analysis : Human voice is a unique gift, use it well

Speaking Test

By - Homayun Taba

Each of us has a unique voice that is an individuality. The voice is one instrument among many others. As an instrument we employ other one can learn to play it well with focus on tempo, timbre, tone, emphasis, speed and volume.

Two unmistakable voices come to mind: "I have a dream," said Martin Luther King Jr. and the other of Louis Armstrong.

It is still amazing how the purring of air from the lungs to vibrate the vocal cords could create such a range. The quality of a voice depends on the position of the tongue, teeth and variation in granulation.

There seem to exist three kinds of voices - one we speak in, one when we think or ruminate, and one when we write. It is said that each of daily finding one's voice is a challenge for any author.

An echo is the return of a voice, silence is its absence though the latter it communicate a lot. A voice can be gentle, stern, melodious, commanding, it can convey the subtleness of flattery, intensity of passion, the earnestness of seduction, boldness of reason. The different intonations of the voice are a true voice of judgment.

Voices power the marginalized, have no voice, therefore, they need a voice reached to help, equally so when people speak in one voice so limit diversity of voices.

All spiritual traditions know the significance of the sound of the voice - recitations of sacred texts, the Gregorian chant, mantric recitations, and the Azan call to prayer. Words or mantras become alive when introduced with voice.

In order to tune to the inner voice, quiet so-tude is required and the cacophony of the external ones needs to be muted. One authentic voice that is difficult to ignore is the voice of conscience - that quietly audibly one that tells us, "Don't do it."

To express and to connect are two main human psychological needs - expressing feelings, needs, ideas that establish connection. Disconnection often explains why people shout, not because of physical distance but the psychological one.

From a mother's soothing, melodious lullaby to the inspiring voice and words of a great speaker, the acoustic energy of a voice can lift us with warmth of enthusiasm or dampen our spirits. It is an instrument of impact, therefore, a careful choice as to how to deploy it - appealing to unite, leading to guide, asking to be reasonable, or attempting to dissuade, creating disharmony that may be the reason we can still hear the voices of those who have impacted our lives. However, the experience less of it because the academic of texting and emojis has left little scope for sensing the tonal quality, mood, nuance, and the warmth of the spoken word. For this reason, I prefer sending voice messages.

The singing of birds at dawn and dusk could be interpreted as the voice of joy. What they convey is that the world is meant to be celebrated. And here once again, Louis Armstrong's voice begins to resonate in our ears.

Name of the Student: Esha Vilos Malshikare

In Homayun Taber's article "Human voice is a unique gift, use it well," the emphasis on the importance of the human voice resonates strongly. The human voice is indeed a remarkable gift, serving as a powerful tool for communication, expression, and connection. It allows us to convey our thoughts, emotions, and intentions in nuanced ways that written words or gestures alone cannot achieve.

When we use our voices effectively and responsibly we can foster understanding, empathy, and unity among individuals and communities. It enables us to build meaningful relationships, bridge cultural divides and inspire positive change. However, this gift can also be misused or underutilized, leading to misunderstandings, conflict and missed opportunities for connection.

Therefore it is essential to recognize the value of our voices and strive to use them in ways that uplift and empower both ourselves and others, This means actively listening to others, speaking with honesty and integrity and advocating for justice and equality. By harnessing the the powers of our voices of good we can create a more harmonious and inclusive society. Where everyone's voice is heard and respected.

Guest Lecture Topic: Motivational story of Rechalkha Founder

Guest Speaker Name: Mr. Abhishek Paranjpe

Objectives of the activity:

1. To inspire and encourage individuals for challenges.
- 2 To make student understand about sustainability.

Brief Report:

A guest lecture on 'motivational story of Rechalkha founder' was organized in the institution. The session was presented by Mr. Abhishek Paranjpe. Co- Founder and COO at 'Rechalkha – The Ecosocial Tribe'. He has also worked as nutritional and fitness trainer. He talked about their business of preparing plastic fabric bag from waste plastic such as rapper, gift wrapping papers. Sir also mentioned about the background behind starting this business. Below are some of the points that discussed by him:

1. Importance of depletion of plastic: Plastic pollution has drastic effects on ecosystem, leading to the degradation of soil, water and air quality. It endangers marine life, impacts food chains, and poses a threat to human health through the ingestion of micro plastics.
2. Rural employment: it helps alleviate poverty, reduces migration to urban areas, promotes balanced regional development and boosts agricultural productivity.
3. Plastic fabric bags are prepared or manufactured by use of waste plastic such as plastic wrappers and plastic non degradable bags, gift papers, etc.
4. They use traditional charkha method for manufacturing plastic fabric bag. It saves electricity
5. They also used of handloom technique for manufacturing.
6. Non-biodegradable plastic can be use of this technique.

7. Fabric bags are most widely used and easily dumped.
8. Their business also helps in achieving sustainable development goals.
9. In the process of production they don't use new plastic as their ingredient. Whole process of production contains only waste plastic.
10. Refuse, Reduce, and Recycle, Repurpose and upcycle of waste plastic.

We all were keen to know about the importance of depletion plastic, ideas that can reduce plastic waste, even about 4 important R that should be followed by every human being.

In India nearly 73% of the population live in rural areas, where agriculture is being the major part of their life. The economic development of the country, the scarce resources are used efficiently by the rural entrepreneurs by increasing the profits and decreasing the cost. The main problems faced by the rural development entrepreneurs are shortage of finance and raw materials. Peculiar problems faced by the rural entrepreneurs are illiteracy, lack of training and experience, fear of loss, competition from urban entrepreneurs.

Feedback.

It is such a wonderful experience. The topic of group discussion is social entrepreneurship and sustainability they are inseparable. So we discuss on so many points like common goals, Government and policies, Community engagement, Impact of education, Innovation. Also, some of them among us talk about positive as well as they are minimum points on negative impact.

At the last according to all group discussion we conclude that they are not inseparable. We get lot of information from this hope it will help in future also.
